

Building Inspection

It is the property owner's responsibility to make sure that all required inspections are made on a project, including both in-progress inspections and the final inspection. The contractor, however, may schedule the inspections and be the one on-site for each one.

After hour inspection request

We provide after-hours inspections for your convenience. There is an extra fee for this service and must be approved.

Re-inspections and Correction Notices

If permit work does not pass inspection the first time, a re-inspection is necessary. As part of the inspection, applicants receive a correction notice from the inspector. Once those corrections have been made, the customer must reschedule an inspection. A re-inspection fee and other charges for the new scope of the permit would be required.
